GET 9 REQUESTS TO HOLD AUTOS

Police are Besieged by Owners of Stolen Cars Who Think Davis
Gang Got Theirs

ONE MORE IS IDENTIFIED

Henry Hollensbe of Clarksburg Finds
he Had Purchased Machine Stolen From John Leakey

The situation with regards to the recovering of stolen automobiles as outlined by the confession of George Davis, owner of a garage at Clarksburg, who implicated the Davis family in a large number of thefts, took a ludicrous angle today. From all indications everyone within a radius of a hundred miles whose Ford was stolen within the past year is trying to locate the property.

The situation may not be very funny for the Davis family, consisting of the father, Charles Davis, and his three sons, George, Roy and Harrison, and Bert Pickett, but it is for the police. This morning Chief of Police Yahey received a total of nine letters from as many different persons, the victims of either the Davis gang or some other robber whose inclination runs to this popular make of car.

Each of the nine letters contained the request to hold the cars here until the writer could get here to identify them. Everyone of the nine letters contained the startling knowledge that the writers were certain their machine was held here. The local police had only two of the machines to start with and both of these has been identified. One was the property of Henry Summan and the other belonged to John McShirley of Sulphur Springs.

Even a worse condition exists in the Clarksburg and Laurel neighborhoods. Every owner of a Ford car, which was purchased from the Davis brothers, is now wondering whether his property was stolen or whether the deal made with them was square. The Davis family sold a large number of cars in the Clarksburg and Laurel communities. The Davis garages at these two towns have been thronged with visitors every day since the confessions were made, all seeking to identify a car.

The situation presents all kinds of possibilities. Yesterday John Leakey of New Lisbon, Henry county, found his machine in possession of Henry Hollensbe, a well known resident of Clarksburg. The Leakey car was stolen from in front of the residence in New Lisbon on the night of April 23. George Davis in his confession told of taking the Leakey car and stated that he sold it to Mr. Hollensbe.

Just how many more similar cases will bob up remains to be seen, but it is almost certain that a large number of people are driving stolen Ford machines without knowing the fact.

George Davis and Bert Pickett were taken to Clarksburg yesterday from the Liberty jail by Deputy Sheriff Lyons to identify the car they sold to Mr. Hollensbe. Hollensbe had made some extensive improvements on the car and while he hated to part with the property an adjustment was made and Mr. Leakey took the machine back to Henry county.

While in Clarksburg George Davis showed the deputy sheriff his outfit for changing the numbers of the machines that were stolen. The numbers on the stolen machines were knocked off and with a stencil Davis would give the cars a new number. The number of the Summan car recovered in this city had been tampered with and one figure changed.

GETTING ON THEIR NERVES

Police and Firemen Thought They Had Another Stolen Automobile

For a time last night the police and members of the fire department believed they had recovered another stolen auto, but it turned out to be the property of John Knecht. The machine was found standing at the corner of Seventh and Morgan streets, without any lights or number plates and the police were sure they had a stolen car. He said that he had left hurriedly for Indianapolis, getting on the car at the Morgan street curve, and left the car standing in the street.

TWO BOUND OVER TO THE GRAND JURY

Elmer Hite and Harry Flodder are Held in Police Court Today for Investigation

BONDS ARE REDUCED TO $1,000

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., June 27.—Elmer Hite and Harry Flodder, Rushville boys arrested last Friday afternoon charged with the theft of two automobiles in Indianapolis, appeared before Judge Deery in police court this morning and were bound over to the Marion county grand jury under bonds of $1,000 each. The specific charge against them is grand larceny. They were implicated by the confession of George Davis of Clarksburg in Connersville last Friday afternoon, who admitted that he had purchased two cars they had stolen.

According to local attorneys defending Elmer Hite and Harry Flodder, the two local boys caught in the net with the Davis gang for stealing automobiles, both stand a good chance of remaining in the Marion county jail until September. They were bound over to the grand jury this morning and as the grand jury does not meet until September they will have to remain in jail unless someone comes to their rescue and signs the bonds in the sum of $1,000 each. The present term of court there ends Saturday.

John Tittsworth represents Flodder and John Kiplinger represents Hite.

PREPARE TO MEET A CARRANZA ATTACK

United States Troops are Located at Naco Anticipating Movement on Bisbee, Ari.

OTHERS SENT TO EAGLE PASS

San Antonio, Texas, June 27.—General Funston announced today that the 22nd infantry has been ordered from Douglas to Naco, Arizona, in preparation for the reported plan of Carranza forces to attack Bisbee.

There are three battalions of infantry now at Naco. It was first reported that the attack was contemplated against Naco, but later events, the nature of which was not revealed, caused army officials to believe Bisbee would be the Mexican object.

The Third field infantry left here today for Eagle Pass to protect that city in case of attacks.

ORGANIZE TO DIRECT CHARITY

W. H. Anderson of Ladoga Suggests That Proposed Association be Governing Body Only.

SPEAKS TO THE DELEGATES

His Idea is Organization Should Not Back Visiting Nurse Financially
but Should Support Her.

To make the purpose of the charitable organization recently formed one directing all charitable enterprises undertaken here, besides supporting the visiting nurse, was the plea of W. H. Anderson of Ladoga in his talk to the delegates of the clubs forming this organization who met at the home of Mrs. A. G. Reeves last evening. Mr. Anderson spoke with knowledge based on experience, being chairman of the 9th district of Charities and Correction, and having been very active in charitable work.

His suggestion for the organization, being formed here by one delegate from each club or society interested in charity, was to make it one merely to direct the benevolences of each of these societies or of individuals. In his own words, "Showering charity is an abuse to the poor and alms giving is a crime." The intelligent way to do charity is to correct the conditions which make giving necessary, he said.

His suggestion for the work of the organization was for them to be a governing body, one phase of whose work shall be the support of the visiting nurse. The association should not back the project financially, or even have a treasury but should see that it is done. Too, all cases deserving help should be referred to this organization, which in turn will turn them over to the club, church, society, or individual whose case it should be. In this way more cases will be reached and be more intelligently treated than without an organization, which keeps all needy cases on record.

A constitutional committee, composed of Mrs. Lewis Sexton, Mrs. John Cooning and Miss Alma Green, had a short meeting following the talk, when Mr. Anderson met with them. Thursday evening, the committee will meet and draw up a constitution for the organization.

WILLIAM BARBER DIES THIS MORNING

Well Known Farmer and Timber
Buyer Expires at His Home at Andersonville

WIDOW AND FOUR CHILDREN

William Barber, 86 years old, a well known resident of Andersonville died this morning at 9 o'clock at his home there following a long illness from senility and a complication of diseases. Mr. Barber had lived in that section practically all his life and was known as a farmer and timber buyer.

He is survived by the widow and four children, Hiram Barber and Mrs. Thomas Abercrombie both of Elwood, Harry Barber and Elwood Barber. The funeral services will be conducted Thursday afternoon at two o'clock at the late residence and burial will take place in the Hopewell cemetery.

K. OF P.S TO STAY BY ENLISTED MEN

Pass Resolution to Remit Dues of All Members Who Have Joined or Will Join Army.

LOCAL BOYS ARE ENLISTING

Larry Knecht and Orville Hood Telephone Back Home Today That They Are Going to War.

Ivy Lodge No. 27, Knights of Pythias, last night passed a resolution providing that dues of all members who have enlisted for service in Mexico or who enlist either in the national guard or the regular army for the same purpose in the future shall have their lodge dues remitted during the period of their service and that they will still be considered active members.

This action of the lodge is in accord with the attitude that has been shown by many large corporations, which have announced all men enlisting will find their positions when they return, and some have gone so far as to pay employees with others dependent upon them a portion of their regular wages.

It is likely that the Uniform Rank company 35, will take the same action as the subordinate lodge in view of the fact that the Indiana brigade of the Uniform Rank, at a meeting last Sunday decided to recruit a regiment in Indiana for the service in Mexico.

Word was received here this afternoon that Larry Knecht, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Knecht, and Orville Hood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hood, both of near Raleigh, intended to join the state militia. They both went to Indianapolis last night, leaving word behind that they expected to enlist. Upon receipt of a telephone message this afternoon, relatives of Knecht left for Indianapolis to try to induce him to come back home.

The Knecht boy is just tall enough to get into the army and is barely eighteen years old, which allows him to enlist without the consent of his parents. Under that age the written consent is necessary, but according to a federal act approved June 3, there are no strings to young men when they reach eighteen if they want to fight for their country.

According to word received here today, Dr. Hale Pearsey spent last night at Fort Benjamin Harrison and would endeavor to get into the hospital corps of the national guard. Frank Owens, who went to Indianapolis yesterday afternoon with Walter Gartin to join the army, had not joined yet at noon today. Mr. Gartin went to Battery B., of Lafayette, of which he was a member when the order for the national guard to mobilize was sent out. Allan H. Blackledge of this city enlisted in Battery B.

HOBBS NOT GUILTY

James Hobbs was found not guilty on a provoke charge last night by Mayor Bebout. The charge was filed by William Cross. Two other charges one of assault and battery and the other of carrying concealed weapons, against Hobbs are yet to be tried. Similar charges against George Newland are also pending.

TO MEET THURSDAY

The stockholders of the Rush County Amusement association will hold a meeting Thursday night in the assembly room for the purpose of electing officers. It is important that new officers be named in order to carry on the affairs of the association for this season and for this reason a large crowd is urged to attend.

BIG CROWD ENJOYS CUTING

Seventy-Five Mothers and Children Attend Salvation Army Picnic

Seventy-five mothers and children participated in the Salvation Army outing held today at the John Boyd grove south of the city. Four automobiles and a large truck carried the crowd to the Boyd farm. A number of songs were sung at the corner of Main and Second streets just before the crowd was loading into the waiting machines. A picture was also taken. Captain Thorpe had made all the arrangements for the dinner which was served at noon. The outing to the poor children and their mothers has become an annual event with the Salvation army and is always looked forward to eagerly by the children.

DIPLOMATS URGE TROOPERS' RELEASE

Latin-American Representatives Impress on Carranza Necessity of His Hasty Action

TO SHOW DESIRE TO STOP WAR

(By United Press.)

Washington, June 27.—Several Latin-American diplomats in Washington have telegraphed General Carranza urging release of seventeen American troops held prisoners in Chihuahua City, it was learned today.

These diplomats pointed out to Carranza the diplomatic expedience of doing this if he is sincere in his expressed desire to prevent war. Since there is no war yet, the captured men are not prisoners of war, the diplomats pointed out, and can not legally be held on that charge.

Technically it is understood they can be considered in the same class with Mexican soldiers entering United States territory, but it is not considered probable the Mexicans will look at it that way.

TOMORROW TO BE DEADLINE

Hinted if no Reply From Carranza is Forthcoming by That Time,
Wilson Will go to Congress

PATIENCE ABOUT EXHAUSTED

American Consul in Mexico Suggests That Immediate Answer to U.
S. is Imperative

(By United Press.)

Washington, June 27.—President Wilson's patience in awaiting release of American prisoners in Chihuahua City is limited to hours, not days.

It may be stated that a definite reply from General Carranza relative to his attitude is expected not later than tomorrow night.

The state department has been informed the president's demands were delivered to Mexican Minister of Foreign Affairs Aguilar yesterday. It is understood Consul Rodgers in presenting the note to Aguilar suggested that immediate reply was imperative.

After the cabinet session it was said Carranza's reply to the United States demands had not arrived and that no outline of it was before the administration. Should the answer prove unsatisfactory, it is believed President Wilson will appear before congress at once, asking for use of the armed forces as he sees necessary and at the same time sending Carranza an ultimatum demanding the release of American prisoners in Chihuahua City.

Officials believe Carranza's answer may be here by night; at any rate it was felt tomorrow night would be the deadline for its receipt.

DEPARTURE OF I. N. G. DELAYED BY EXAMINATION

(By United Press.)

Fort Benjamin Harrison, Indianapolis, Ind., June 27.—Failure of a number of men to pass the strict physical examination may delay the departure of the Indiana National Guard for the Mexican border, it was said at Camp Ralston headquarters today.

The number of men who have failed to pass the physical examination was not made public but it is understood from good authority that the percentage was surprisingly large.

1,500 TROOPS ARE STATIONED NEAR LAREDO

Laredo, Texas, June 27.—A troop train of twenty cars loaded with Carranza soldiers arrived at Nuevo Laredo, opposite here, today. It is estimated there were 1,500 men on the train. Arrival of another troop train last night is reported.

EASTERN GUARDSMEN ENROUTE TO BORDER

New York, June 27.—Eastern national guardsmen are enroute to the border today. Three special trains carrying more than 1,100 New York troops left the state concentration camp Peekskill and Buffalo at 8:30 and the famous Seventh regiment of New York City entrained at Jersey City at ten o'clock.

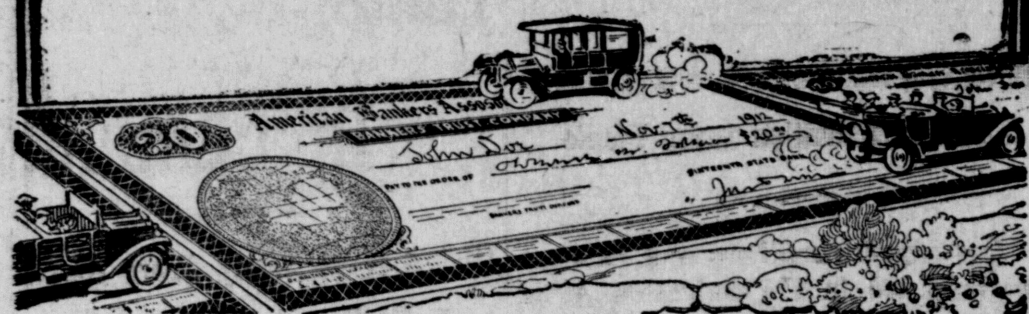

At nine o'clock the Massachusetts troops were entrained and on their way. The last train load of New Jersey militia left the mobilization grounds at four o'clock this morning. The Connecticut troops after being delayed by transportation facilities got under way at eleven o'clock.

—The Misses Maurine Tompkins, Kathryn Bosley, Lorena Kennedy, and Florence McKee of Milroy were visitors here today.

Grace Cunard in a two act Victor feature entitled "Her Better Self" is the first picture at the Gem tonight. It is said to be a fine production. The second picture is a Nestor comedy "Mingling Spirits" presenting an all star cast. Also one other good reel will be on the program. Tomorrow a three act 101 Bison Feature will be shown. It is entitled "Monna Vanna" and was made by the famous Ambrosia Co., in Italy and purchased by the Universal. It is an adaption of the work of Maurice Maeterlinck.

The Princess offers the feature picture "Then I'll Come Back to You," for the program tonight. Alice Brady is featured. It is said to tell a powerful story of the great outdoors, the machinations of an unscrupulous scoundrel to ruin a rival suitor. There are awe inspiring scenes and an adventurous romance that finds its own after a series of most disheartening experiences. Tomorrow matinee and night Theda Bara, the great emotional actress will be seen in the great drama, "Destinations." It is an educational photoplay; educational from the artisan's viewpoint as well as from that of the student of economics. There is a great dramatic story woven through the picture and deals with a woman whose love of luxury plunges thousands into poverty and suffering.

Precedents Galore

There is nothing so new or so menacing about a justice of the supreme court being a candidate for the presidency. Nor are the candidacies of this sort confined to the Republican party. In fact, the Democrats have gone to the supreme bench to find candidates, notwithstanding the fact that Senator Stone has discovered that such a procedure is a menace. The New York Sun has gone into the question deeply, and publishes the following historic facts:

"John Jay, the first chief justice of the supreme court, was a candidate for governor of New York in 1792 and did not resign his office on the supreme court bench. He was defeated, but a few years afterward, following his resignation from the court, he ran again and was elected. Jay also served as envoy extraordinary to Great Britain during the last of his chief justiceship.

"In the third presidential election, 1796, James Iredell of North Carolina, a justice of the supreme court, was a candidate and received three electoral votes.

"In the election of 1816 Chief Justice John Marshall of Virginia had four electoral votes for vice-president.

"In 1832, at the twelfth presidential election, Justice John McLean of Ohio was at first a strong candidate of the so-called anti-Masonic party. He had consented to become the candidate of the party if nominated. But in the convention, which Chief Justice Marshall attended, William Wirt of Maryland was nominated, receiving afterward only seven electoral votes.

"Justice McLean was Ohio's candidate in 1836, but dropped out of the contest. Again Justice McLean was mentioned in 1848 and received two votes on the first ballot of the Whig convention, which finally nominated Gen. Zachary Taylor. At the first national convention of the Republican party in 1856 Justice McLean was a strong candidate, being the only strong competitor of John C. Fremont. The first and only ballot gave Fremont 359 votes, McLean 196, Charles Sumner 2 and William H. Seward 1. At the Republican convention of 1860, which nominated Lincoln, McLean received votes on all three ballots. He had also received twenty-two votes on the first ballot of the so-called Constitutional Union convention, which nominated John Bell. This was Justice McLean's last attempt to become a sought a nomination for nearly thirty years, during almost his entire incumbency of a seat on the supreme bench.

"Justice David Davis of Illinois received the nomination of the so-called Labor Reform party in 1872, sending a non-committal dispatch to the convention, thanking it for the honor without accepting the nomination. He afterward formally declined, as did Judge Joel Parker of New Jersey, the candidate for the vice-presidency. Charles O'Connor of New York was nominated, but the second place on the ticket was not filled. At the Liberal Republican convention, which finally nominated Horace Greely, Davis received votes on every ballot, and his presidential aspirations were unobscured. He received one electoral vote after Greeley's death. When the electoral commission was selected in 1877 to decide the Hayes-Tilden contest Justice Davis would have been the logical choice for the fifth member from the supreme court, but he had a few days before been a senator from Illinois and it was thought improper that he should serve. If he had been selected Tilden instead of Hayes would probably have been elected.

"Chief Justice Chase was a candidate for president in 1868. Grant, who had been a Democrat, was nominated by the Republicans, and the Democrats thought it would be wise to oppose him with an old-time Democrat who had won such esteem from the party in his rulings in the impeachment case of President Johnson, and a plank of the platform emphasized this. Undoubtedly Chase would have been nominated but for the opposition of Tilden, who very adroitly brought about the nomination of Horatio Seymour. It is said that this act of Tilden's had a sequel in 1877, when the daughter of Chase influenced one or more senators to cast their votes against Tilden.

"There has hardly been a pre-nomination campaign since Washington's second election when some justice of the supreme court has not been thought of or been prominent in connection with the candidacy. There has been little or no criticism on that score, and the result has always been a matter of fitness and availability as compared with other candidates."

Plain Facts About Mexico.

(St. Louis Globe Democrat.)
The country is indebted to former Secretary of State Knox for a clear and concise statement of facts and dates to the few weeks, in the early part of 1913, when the Madero Government in Mexico was being overthrown and the provisional government of Huerta inaugurated. These statements were made in refutation of a recent assertion that Mr. Wilson, coming into office March 4 in that year, found the Mexican problem left on his hands by his predecessor, Mr. Taft. Mr. Knox, who then was secretary of state in the Taft cabinet, said, speaking at a Grant Day banquet in Pittsburgh, that "What Mr. Wilson inherited from Mr. Taft was an outstanding unanswered diplomatic request to the provisional government at Mexico City for definite assurances of the security of American rights, and the adjustment of American claims, as a preliminary to consideration of the question of recognition. What Mr. Wilson did was to repudiate the policy of his predecessor in this as in all things, and create a situation making the adjustment of American rights impossible."

Therein is a challenge which goes unanswered. Mr. Knox was speaking from the records of a time all of which he saw and much which he was. Thus refreshed, the public mind will readily recall the so far from pressing the claim by the Taft administration as preliminary and essential to recognition, Mr. Wilson announced, very soon after his inauguration, that "under no circumstances which may arise" would the provisional government in Mexico be recognized. The ex-secretary has now shown, by the citation of dates in their chronological order, that the provisional government with which Mr. Taft had been negotiating for special guarantees was a constitutional government under Mexican law; that Huerta, even if an assassin, was in no sense a usurper, that he succeeded in the office not Madero but Lascarain, following Madero's resignation February 18, and Huerta's own appointment to succeed Lascarain as minister of foreign affairs, next in the line of presidential succession under Mexican law. On Lascarain's resignation, February 19, Huerta was chosen provisional president by the Mexican Congress, then in session. Withholding recognition under such circumstances was in contravention of all our previous continental policy.

URGE USE OF JITNEY BUS

Union Men Now Trying to Get Back at Car Company

(By United Press.)

Peru, Ind., June 27.—Life is just one thing after another for the city street car system here. First the little jitney bus steals so much business that the Fort Wayne & Northern Traction Co., decides to cut the force on each city car to one man—the motorman. Now all the union men are uniting in condemning this action as "inimical to the welfare of union men," because it throws union men out of employment. They are urging everyone to walk or use a jitney bus.

Our Advice is-Buy Shoes Now

The great war is causing a tremendous rise in leather and shoes, and is forcing prices SKY HIGH

The millions of soldiers in Europe are using up so many shoes that the shortage of leather is becoming a serious problem, and the burden must be borne by the citizen consumer. In America this condition is hitting us hard.

We strongly advise you not to delay your purchase, not only for yourself, but for the whole family. We do not know what the future prices will be, but whatever they are, neither the retailer nor the consumer can help himself.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Warner of southwest of the city gave a dinner Sunday for several of their friends who were Mr. and Mrs. Dan Purcell and two daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Will Course and two daughters, and Mr. and Mrs. Noah Tryon.

FOR MRS. PEARSEY

In honor of Mrs. Chase Pearsey, who leaves soon for Muncie, where she and Mr. Pearsey will make their future home, the members of the W. R. C. were entertained by Mrs. Mary Poston and Mrs. Sarah Guffin at the beautiful country home of the former at dinner today. Situated back among the trees, the large veranda, where the guests spent the greater part of the day is ideal for entertaining. Decorations corresponding to the purpose of the order were used, the porch pillars being twined with bunting in patriotic colors, and large American flags being draped over all the doors in welcome to the guests. Nasturtiums, sweet peas, catwaba and a number of other flowers decorated the rooms and the porch. A beautiful color scheme of corresponding reds was used on the dining table which was lit with red candles in crystal holders. A huge center-piece of cherry branches embellished the table, under the chandelier, which was similarly decorated. Ferns were placed about and bouquets of Crimson Ramblers graced each end of the table. The bountiful dinner was placed here and the guests passed about, being served in buffet style. Cherry pie a la mode was the last course of the elegant repast.

At the close of the meal, a beautiful set, including a sugar spoon and butter knife, bearing the letters W. R. C. was presented to Mrs. Pearsey, with a short but appropriate talk by Mrs. Noley Newkirk. Several short readings were also given by Miss Frances Frazee.

The hostesses were assisted in serving by Mrs. Lieu Oneal, Mrs. Jesse Winship and Mrs. Finley. The members of the Corps enjoying this delightful day together were Mrs. Noley Newkirk, Mrs. Will Trennepohl, Mrs. Goodin, Mrs. Selman Webb, Mrs. James Gregg, Mrs. Matilda Worth, Mrs. William Offutt, Mrs. C. M. Yocum, Mrs. Stevens, Mrs. Willard Brown, Mrs. Ed Lee, Mrs. Rachel Conde, Mrs. Lydia Turner, Mrs. Bainbridge, Mrs. Mattie Worth, Mrs. Phoebe Phillips, Mrs. Pearsey, Mrs. M. C. Dawson, Mrs. Siders and Mrs. Ed Young.

Invited guests were Mr. and Mrs. Will Dill, Mrs. John Finley, Mrs. Jesse Winship, Mrs. Lieu Oneal, Mrs. Fred Brown, Mrs. Charles Brown, Miss Hungerford, Miss Josephine Kelly, Miss Frances Frazee, Leah Worth, and Mary Elizabeth Winship.

William Denny succeeded Ray Lakin as nightwatchman last night. Mr. Lakin retires in order to give his dray business his attention. Lakin has served as nightwatchman since last September.

SEES LICENSES FOR THE AD. MAN

Speaker at Convention of Advertising Clubs Says They'll be Treated as Physicians.

GIVES PRINTER'S INK CREDIT

N. B. Buckner of Asheville, N. C.,

Tells What His City Accomplished by its Use.

Philadelphia, June 27.—Lewellyn E. Pratt, chairman of the National Educational Committee of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World, speaking at the twelfth annual convention of that body here this morning, predicted that the time was not far off when the advertising men of the country would be licensed by state examining boards, as physicians now are.

He said that when this prediction was first made, some time ago, the man who predicted it also said the time would come when great universities of the country, recognizing advertising as a force for public good, would provide courses for the training of advertising men, and this has now come to pass. Many of the leading universities now offer such courses. He predicted the licensing of advertising men as a natural step that would be taken before long. Features of today's sessions were

One of the particularly interesting the discussion of community advertising plans at a department conference on city advertising, and it was proved that a city, which the right kind of advertising plans, can expect results as tangible and as certain as those which the merchant or manufacturer has learned to anticipate.

Robert L. Burch, Nashville, Tenn., told how that city obtained seventy-four new industrial concerns and 333 conventions as the result of a well planned advertising and publicity campaign. The capital of the new industries approximate $2,000,000 and the estimated amount of money spent by the thousands of delegates attending the 333 conventions is over $2,500,000.

N. B. Buckner, Asheville, N. C., told how his town was transformed through similar methods. More than twenty-five vacant stores greeted the visitor as he strolled through the heart of the town a few years back, and today there is only one vacant store in the whole city, said Mr. Buckner. In addition to that it has brought new people, two new hotels and vast business improvements.

"The Nashville bureau began its work with three things in mind," said Mr. Burch. "These were to increase the population; to secure new industries and to get conventions. We have accomplished all three.

"Before a single advertisement was placed, a complete, accurate and attractive set of municipal literature was compiled, twenty-three pieces in all, dealing with every phase of municipal life. The bureau expended $20,000 for this literature, and more than 1,000,000 pieces have been distributed.

"After this literature had been compiled, the bureau placed advertisements in the country's leading magazines and periodicals of general circulation. Special write-ups and illustrated stories were published in many of them. We used trade journals, technical periodicals, important farm and dairy papers, newspapers, billboards, buttons, fobs, pins and moving pictures."

Mr. Buckner gave "printer's ink" full credit for the transformation in the North Carolina city, and especially recommended newspapers as the best advertising medium for a city.

"Five years ago traffic officers were an undreamed of factor in the daily life of Asheville," says Mr. Buckner. "Yet two years ago, the growth of the city had been so rapid that they were a necessity on the principal business corners of the city.

"Six years ago, when the present administration of the Board of Trade was inaugurated, there were more than twenty-five vacant stores in the business district of Asheville.

Today there is but one vacant store room in the city, and in the meantime, many new ones have been erected, building operations having been greatly stimulated both in the business and in the residence districts.

"Our advertisements give definite information about Asheville's climatic condition, scenery, water accommodations, etc. We always request persons interested to send for descriptive literature which is forwarded immediately upon receipt of such requests, together with a personal letter.

"Our follow-up system is such that each inquirer receives from ten to twenty letters, papers, booklets or folders about Asheville. The names and addresses of all persons asking for information are furnished to the two daily papers, which send copies of current daily and Sunday issues. A copy of this list is sent to the passenger department of the Southern Railway, which sends letters and literature, and frequently has a representative call on the party for a personal interview.

"Charles French Toms, a former prominent citizen of Hendersonville, twenty miles of south Asheville, was brought to Asheville as a citizen, means of a three-cent booklet published and distributed by the Board of Trade. Mr. Toms has invested $300,000 in Asheville within the past three years."

While the bulk of the money for Asheville's advertising has been raised through subscriptions by the business men of the city, some of it has come through municipal taxation, about $5,000 a year now coming from this source, he said.

FOOD RIOTS DUE TO INJUSTICE

German Government Regulates Supply For the Poor But Has Not Bothered That of Rich.

STAND IN LINE FOR HOURS

Buck the Restaurants With Food Wagons and Cooking in Many Households Is Past.

BY WILLIAM G. SHEPHERD.
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)
Rotterdam, May 28.—(By Mail)—The German government is regulating the food supply for the poor but so far it has not taken in hand the control of food for the rich.
The many travelers from Germany who gave their ideas of the German food situation to me here all complained that the wonderful, scientific food conservation scheme of the Germans broke down when it came to dealing with the food of the rich.
This is why there are food riots in Germany. Injustice exists and civilians of Germany town realize it.
"Poor people must stand in line for hours before a meat shop, providing they have five or six marks for a pound of meat," said one German I met in Rotterdam.

"Maybe the meat supply in the shop will hold out until their turn comes in the line and maybe it won't. But rich people can hire a servant whose sole duty is to stand in the meat line every day, from 1 o'clock in the morning until the day's supply of meat for the rich man's household is secured.
"And even if the rich man's servant fails to buy meat, he and his family can always go to a hotel or restaurant and get meat on every day in the week except Tuesday and Friday.

"The authorities may frown on a household going to a restaurant every day, but there is no law against want to be criticized for doing this he has only to go to a different restaurant every day and his unpatriotic practice will not be noticed."
The idea seems to be growing among the middle and lower classes in Germany that the only fair way to deal with the food conservation plan is to put all civilians on a ration basis, each person being granted only a certain quantity of food every day and each individual being sure of receiving the full quantity.
German, who had socialistic leanings, "In a war like ours," said this, "there ought to be no rich or poor. Everybody ought to be on the same basis and many Germans think it is monstrous that the poor should suffer more than the rich.

"We all feel that if the war goes on every person rich and poor ought to be supplied with a daily ration ticket. With this ticket a poor man will be certain of receiving all the food he needs for his family and the rich man will not be able to secure any more than the poor whether he

Federal Inquiry or Railroad Strike?

Faced by demands from the conductors, engineers, firemen and brakemen that would impose on the country an additional burden in transportation costs of $100,000,000 a year, the railroads propose that this wage problem be settled by reference to an impartial Federal tribunal.

With these employees, whose efficient service is acknowledged, the railroads have no differences that could not be considered fairly and decided justly by such a public body.

Railroads Urge Public Inquiry and Arbitration

The formal proposal of the railroads to the employees for the settlement of the controversy is as follows:

"Our conferences have demonstrated that we cannot harmonize our differences of opinion, and that eventually the matters in controversy must be passed upon by other and disinterested agencies. Therefore, we propose that your proposals and the proposition of the railroads be disposed of by one or the other of the following methods:

1. Preferably by submission to the Interstate Commerce Commission, the only tribunal which, by reason of its accumulated information bearing on railway conditions and its control of the revenue of the railways, is in a position to consider and protect the rights and equities of all the interests affected, and to provide additional revenue necessary to meet the added cost of operation in case your proposals are found by the Commission to be just and reasonable; or, in the event the Interstate Commerce Commission cannot, under existing laws, act in the premises, that we jointly request Congress to take such action as may be necessary to enable the Commission to consider and promptly dispose of the questions involved; or
2. By arbitration in accordance with the provisions of the Federal law" (The Newlands Act).

Leaders Refuse Offer and Take Strike Vote

Leaders of the train service brotherhoods, at the joint conference held in New York, June 1-15, refused the offer of the railroads to submit the issue to arbitration or Federal review, and the employees are now voting on the question whether authority shall be given these leaders to declare a nation-wide strike.

The Interstate Commerce Commission is proposed by the railroads as the public body to which this issue ought to be referred for these reasons:

No other body with such an intimate knowledge of railroad conditions has such an unquestioned position in the public confidence.

The rates the railroads may charge the public for transportation are now largely fixed by this Government board.

Out of every dollar received by the railroads from the public nearly one-half is paid directly to the employees as wages; and the money to pay increased wages can come from no other source than the rates paid by the public.

The Interstate Commerce Commission, with its control over rates, is in a position to make a complete investigation and render such decision as would protect the interests of the railroad employees, the owners of the railroads, and the public.

A Question For the Public to Decide

The railroads feel that they have no right to grant a wage preferment of $100,000,000 a year to these employees, now highly paid and constituting only one-fifth of all the employees, without a clear mandate from a public tribunal that shall determine the merits of the case after a review of all the facts.

The single issue before the country is whether this controversy is to be settled by an impartial Government inquiry or by industrial warfare.

eats at a hotel or at home."

It is to placate the poor and the middle classes of German towns that the government soup wagons pass through the streets.

The restaurants and rich hotels of German cities where a man with money enough had only to go in and express his desires in order to have them fulfilled, became sources of irritation to German civilians.

The government therefore tried to bring restaurant conditions to the people by establishing the food wagons.

In many households cooking is almost a thing of the past. Housekeepers wait for the passing of the food wagon and run out with receptacles to purchase the current meal, which usually consists of war bread and a vegetable soup.

The food wagons, however, while they may satisfy the hunger of the populace do not, I gathered in Rotterdam, satisfy the popular demand for more justice in the distribution of food.

"Put the whole country on rations" is the solution Mr. Average Citizen in Germany offers his government.

"The riots we have been having are not so much for food as for justice and fair play in the distribution of food," explained a German from Berlin.

The Maxwell Automobile is a Day-in-and-Day-out Car

Our absolute faith in the Maxwell car is due to two reasons:

First, we have known that the Maxwell Company uses nothing in the entire car but the very best that money can buy.

We have known that the steel is scientifically heat treated, that the car is built under the supervision of able engineers, that every car is rigidly tested many times before it leaves the factory.

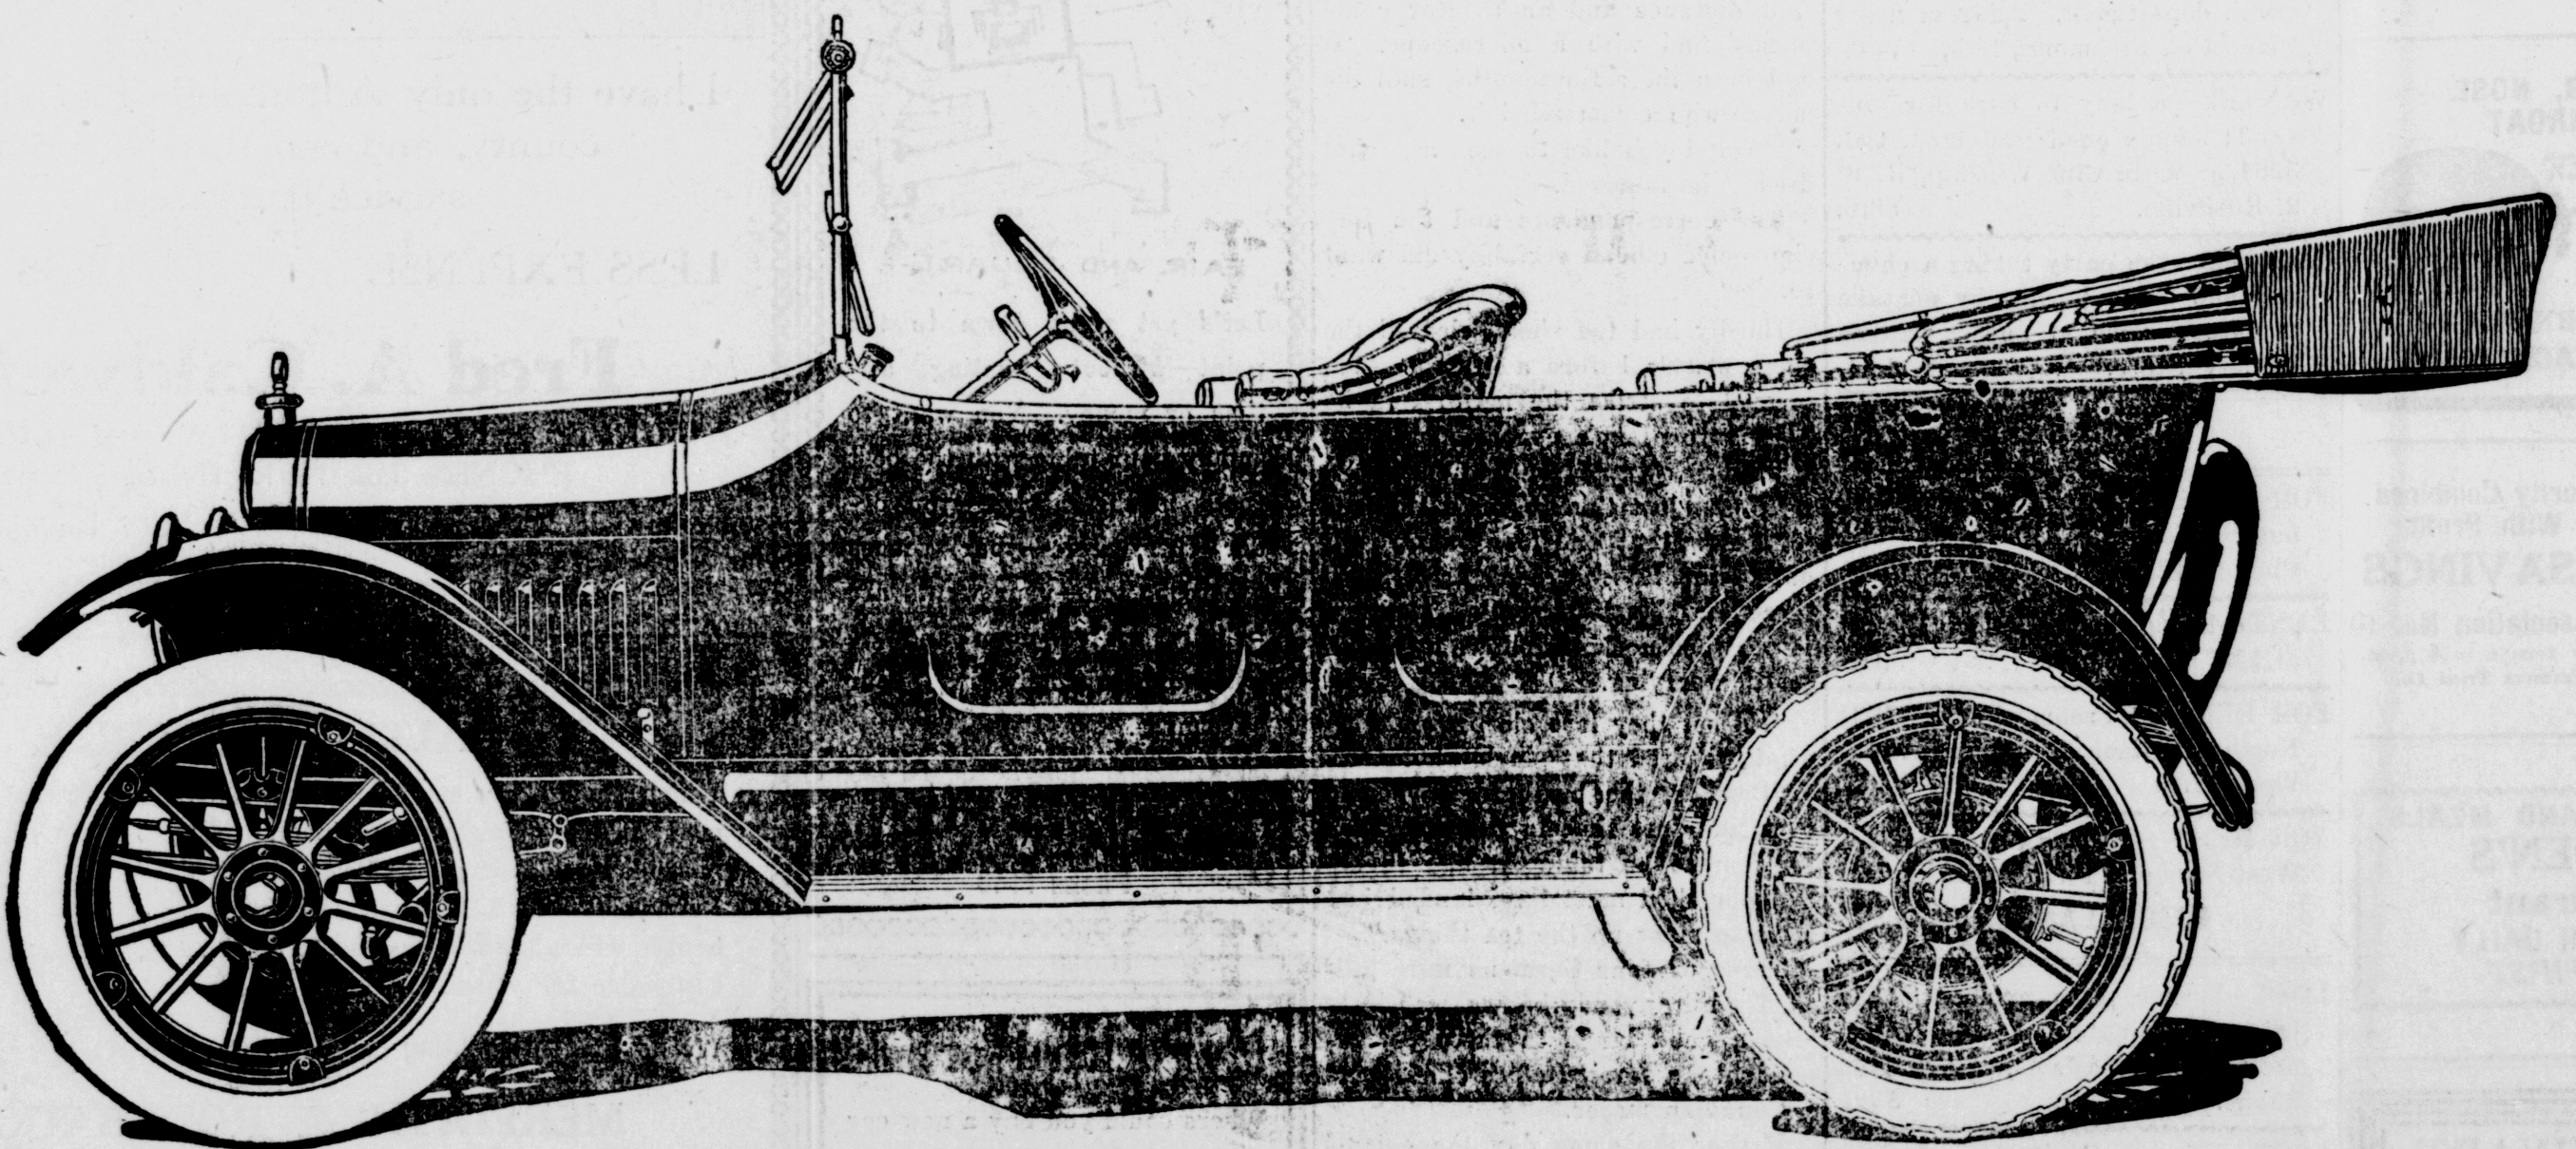

Second, we have known that the big and well established company behind the car is built for the future, that they value a satisfied owner above anything.

Now that the Maxwell has set the World's Motor Non-Stop Mileage Record, by travelling continuously for 44 days and nights—averaging 500 miles per day—you will understand the benefits you personally may derive from the Maxwell policy.

Did you ever hear of any car going 22,000 miles without once stopping the engine, without any repairs or readjustments, with only one gallon of gasoline to every 22 miles?

There is no reason why you shouldn't have a reliable, serviceable and economical Maxwell car.

A word of warning—it is not wise to wait too long. The demand for Maxwells is growing so that in a very short time the factory output, tremendous as it is now, will not be able to meet the demand. If you wait too long, you might be forced to content yourself with some other make of car which, first and last, will cost you much more than the Maxwell.

Opportunity for a Maxwell Dealer is open in this vicinity. Our proposition has unusually attractive and interesting points. Communicate with Maxwell Motor Company, Inc., Detroit, Mich.

GET 9 REQUESTS TO HOLD AUTOS

Police are Besieged by Owners of Stolen Cars Who Think Davis Gang Got Theirs

ONE MORE IS IDENTIFIED

Henry Hollensbe of Clarksburg Finds he Had Purchased Machine Stolen From John Leakey

The situation with regards to the recovering of stolen automobiles as outlined by the confession of George Davis, owner of a garage at Clarksburg, who implicated the Davis family in a large number of thefts, took a ludicrous angle today. From all indications everyone within a radius of a hundred miles whose Ford was stolen within the past year is trying to locate the property.

The situation may not be very funny for the Davis family, consisting of the father, Charles Davis, and his three sons, George, Roy and Harrison, and Bert Pickett, but it is for the police. This morning Chief of Police Yakey received a total of nine letters from as many different persons, the victims of either the Davis gang or some other robber whose inclination runs to this popular make of car.

Each of the nine letters contained the request to hold the cars here until the writer could get here to identify them. Everyone of the nine letters contained the startling knowledge that the writers were certain their machine was held here. The local police had only two of the machines to start with and both of these has been identified. One was the property of Henry Summan and the other belonged to John McShirley of Sulphur Springs.

Even a worse condition exists in the Clarksburg and Laurel neighborhoods. Every owner of a Ford car, which was purchased from the Davis brothers, is now wondering whether his property was stolen or whether the deal made with them was square. The Davis family sold a large number of cars in the Clarksburg and Laurel communities. The Davis garages at these two towns have been thronged with visitors every day since the confessions were made, all seeking to identify a car.

The situation presents all kinds of possibilities. Yesterday John Leakey of New Lisbon, Henry county, found his machine in possession of Henry Hollensbe, a well known resident of Clarksburg. The Leakey car was stolen from in front of the residence in New Lisbon on the night of April 23. George Davis in his confession told of taking the Leakey car and stated that he sold it to Mr. Hollensbe.

Just how many more similar cases will bob up remains to be seen, but it is almost certain that a large number of people are driving stolen Ford machines without knowing the fact.

George Davis and Bert Pickett were taken to Clarksburg yesterday from the Liberty jail by Deputy Sheriff Lyons to identify the car they sold to Mr. Hollensbe. Hollensbe had made some extensive improvements on the car and while he hated to part with the property an adjustment was made and Mr. Leakey took the machine back to Henry county.

While in Clarksburg George Davis showed the deputy sheriff his outfit for changing the numbers of the machines that were stolen. The numbers on the stolen machines were knocked off and with a stencil Davis would give the cars a new number. The number of the Summan car recovered in this city had been tampered with and one figure changed.

GETTING ON THEIR NERVES

Police and Firemen Thought They Had Another Stolen Automobile

For a time last night the police and members of the fire department believed they had recovered another stolen auto, but it turned out to be the property of John Knecht. The machine was found standing at the corner of Seventh and Morgan streets, without any lights or number plates and the police were sure they had a stolen car. He said that he had left hurriedly for Indianapolis, getting on the car at the Morgan street curve, and left the car standing in the street.

TWO BOUND OVER TO THE GRAND JURY

Elmer Hite and Harry Flodder are Held in Police Court Today for Investigation

BONDS ARE REDUCED TO $1,000

(By United Press.) Indianapolis, Ind., June 27.—Elmer Hite and Harry Flodder, Rushville boys arrested last Friday afternoon charged with the theft of two automobiles in Indianapolis, appeared before Judge Deery in police court this morning and were bound over to the Marion county grand jury under bonds of $1,000 each. The specific charge against them is grand larceny. They were implicated by the confession of George Davis of Clarksburg in Connersville last Friday afternoon, who admitted that he had purchased two cars they had stolen.

According to local attorneys defending Elmer Hite and Harry Flodder, the two local boys caught in the net with the Davis gang for stealing automobiles, both stand a good chance of remaining in the Marion county jail until September. They were bound over to the grand jury this morning and as the grand jury does not meet until September they will have to remain in jail unless someone comes to their rescue and signs the bonds in the sum of $1,000 each. The present term of court there ends Saturday.

John Tittsworth represents Flodder and John Kiplinger represents Hite.

PREPARE TO MEET A CARRANZA ATTACK

United States Troops are Located at Naco Anticipating Movement on Bisbee, Ari.

OTHERS SENT TO EAGLE PASS

San Antonio, Texas, June 27.—General Funston announced today that the 22nd infantry has been ordered from Douglas to Naco, Arizona, in preparation for the reported plan of Carranza forces to attack Bisbee.

There are three battalions of infantry now at Naco. It was first reported that the attack was contemplated against Naco, but later events, the nature of which was not revealed, caused army officials to believe Bisbee would be the Mexican object.

The Third field infantry left here today for Eagle Pass to protect that city in case of attacks.

ORGANIZE TO DIRECT CHARITY

W. H. Anderson of Ladoga Suggests That Proposed Association be Governing Body Only.

SPEAKS TO THE DELEGATES

His Idea is Organization Should Not Back Visiting Nurse Financially but Should Support Her.

To make the purpose of the charitable organization recently formed one directing all charitable enterprises undertaken here, besides supporting the visiting nurse, was the plea of W. R. Anderson of Ladoga in his talk to the delegates of the clubs forming this organization who met at the home of Mrs. A. G. Reeves last evening. Mr. Anderson spoke with knowledge based on experience, being chairman of the 9th district of Charities and Correction, and having been very active in charitable work.

His suggestion for the organization, being formed here by one delegate from each club or society interested in charity, was to make it one merely to direct the benevolences of each of these societies or of individuals. In his own words, "Showering charity is an abuse to the poor and alms giving is a crime." The intelligent way to do charity is to correct the conditions which make giving necessary, he said.

His suggestion for the work of the organization was for them to be a governing body, one phase of whose work shall be the support of the visiting nurse. The association should not back the project financially, or even have a treasury but should see that it is done. Too, all cases deserving help should be referred to this organization, which in turn will turn them over to the club, church, society, or individual whose case it should be. In this way more cases will be reached and be more intelligently treated than without an organization, which keeps all needy cases on record.

A constitutional committee, composed of Mrs. Lewis Sexton, Mrs. John Cooning and Miss Alma Green, had a short meeting following the talk, when Mr. Anderson met with them. Thursday evening, the committee will meet and draw up a constitution for the organization.

K. OF P.S. TO STAY BY ENLISTED MEN

Pass Resolution to Remit Dues of All Members Who Have Joined or Will Join Army.

LOCAL BOYS ARE ENLISTING

Larry Knecht and Orville Hood Telephone Back Home Today That They Are Going to War.

Ivy Lodge No. 27, Knights of Pythias, last night passed a resolution providing that dues of all members who have enlisted for service in Mexico or who enlist either in the national guard or the regular army for the same purpose in the future shall have their lodge dues remitted during the period of their service and that they will still be considered active members.

This action of the lodge is in accord with the attitude that has been shown by many large corporations, which have announced all men enlisting will find their positions when they return, and some have gone so far as to pay employees with others dependent upon them a portion of their regular wages.

It is likely that the Uniform Rank company 35, will take the same action, as the subordinate lodge in view of the fact that the Indiana brigade of the Uniform Rank, at a meeting last Sunday, decided to recruit a regiment in Indiana for the service in Mexico.

Word was received here this afternoon that Larry Knecht, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Knecht, and Orville Hood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hood, both of near Raleigh, intended to join the state militia. They both went to Indianapolis last night, leaving word behind that they expected to enlist. Upon receipt of a telephone message this afternoon, relatives of Knecht left for Indianapolis to try to induce him to come back home.

The Knecht boy is just tall enough to get into the army and is barely eighteen years old, which allows him to enlist without the consent of his parents. Under that age the written consent is necessary, but according to a federal act approved June 3, there are no strings to young men when they reach eighteen if they want to fight for their country.

According to word received here today, Dr. Hale Pearsey spent last night at Fort Benjamin Harrison and would endeavor to get into the hospital corps of the national guard. Frank Owens, who went to Indianapolis yesterday afternoon with Walter Gartin to join the army, had not joined yet at noon today. Mr. Gartin went to Battery B, of Lafayette, of which he was a member when the order for the national guard to mobilize was sent out. Allan H. Blackledge of this city enlisted in Battery B.

HOBBS NOT GUILTY

James Hobbs was found not guilty on a provoke charge last night by Mayor Behout. The charge was filed by William Cross. Two other charges, one of assault and battery and the other of carrying concealed weapons, against Hobbs are yet to be tried. Similar charges against George Newland are also pending.

TO MEET THURSDAY

The stockholders of the Rush County Amusement association will hold a meeting Thursday night in the assembly room for the purpose of electing officers. It is important that new officers be named in order to carry on the affairs of the association for this season and for this reason a large crowd is urged to attend.

Seventy-Five Mothers and Children Attend Salvation Army Picnic

Seventy-five mothers and children participated in the Salvation Army outing held today at the John Boyd grove south of the city. Four automobiles and a large truck carried the crowd to the Boyd farm. A number of songs were sung at the corner of Main and Second streets just before the crowd was loading into the waiting machines. A picture was also taken. Captain Thorpe had made all the arrangements for the dinner which was served at noon. The outing to the poor children and their mothers has become an annual event with the Salvation army and is always looked forward to eagerly by the children.

DIPLOMATS URGE TROOPERS' RELEASE

Latin-American Representatives Impress on Carranza Necessity of His Hasty Action

TO SHOW DESIRE TO STOP WAR

(By United Press.) Washington, June 27.—Several Latin-American diplomats in Washington have telegraphed General Carranza urging release of seventeen American troops held prisoners in Chihuahua City, it was learned today.

These diplomats pointed out to Carranza the diplomatic expedience of, doing this if he is sincere in his expressed desire to prevent war. Since there is no war yet, the captured men are not prisoners of war, the diplomats pointed out, and can not legally be held on that charge.

Technically it is understood they can be considered in the same class with Mexican soldiers entering United States territory, but it is not considered probable the Mexicans will look at it that way.

TOMORROW TO BE DEADLINE

Hinted if no Reply From Carranza is Forthcoming by That Time, Wilson Will go to Congress

PATIENCE ABOUT EXHAUSTED

American Consul in Mexico Suggests That Immediate Answer to U. S. is Imperative

(By United Press.)

Washington, June 27.—President Wilson's patience in awaiting release of American prisoners in Chihuahua City is limited to hours, not days.

It may be stated that a definite reply from General Carranza relative to his attitude is expected not later than tomorrow night.

The state department has been informed the president's demands were delivered to Mexican Minister of Foreign Affairs Aguilar yesterday. It is understood Consul Rodgers in presenting the note to Aguilar suggested that immediate reply was imperative.

After the cabinet session it was said Carranza's reply to the United States demands had not arrived and that no outline of it was before the administration. Should the answer prove unsatisfactory, it is believed President Wilson will appear before congress at once, asking for use of the armed forces as he sees necessary and at the same time sending Carranza an ultimatum demanding the release of American prisoners in Chihuahua City.

Officials believe Carranza's answer may be here by night; at any rate it was felt tomorrow night would be the deadline for its receipt.

DEPARTURE OF I. N. G. DELAYED BY EXAMINATION

(By United Press.)

Fort Benjamin Harrison, Indianapolis, Ind., June 27.—Failure of a number of men to pass the strict physical examination may delay the departure of the Indiana National Guard for the Mexican border, it was said at Camp Ralston headquarters today.

The number of men who have failed to pass the physical examination was not made public but it is understood from good authority that the percentage was surprisingly large.

Laredo, Texas, June 27.—A troop train of twenty cars loaded with Carranza soldiers arrived at Nuevo Laredo, opposite here, today. It is estimated there were 1,500 men on the train. Arrival of another troop train last night is reported.

EASTERN GUARDSMEN ENROUTE TO BORDER

New York, June 27.—Eastern national guardsmen are enroute to the border today. Three special trains carrying more than 1,100 New York troops left the state concentration camp Peekskill and Buffalo at 8:30 and the famous Seventh regiment of New York City entrained at Jersey City at ten o'clock.

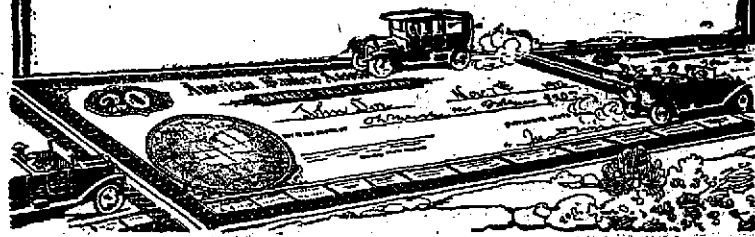

At nine o'clock the Massachusetts troops were entrained and on their way. The last train load of New Jersey militia left the mobilization grounds at four o'clock this morning. The Connecticut troops after being delayed by transportation facilities got under way at eleven o'clock.

The Misses Maurine Tompkins, Kathryn Bosley, Lorena Kennedy, and Florence McKee of Milroy were visitors here today.

"A. B. A." Cheques level the way for the traveler

These Cheques are particularly convenient for the motor tourist. Since they are accepted like cash by hotels, auto supply dealers, merchants and railroad companies, in payment of bills and services, the owner does not have to wait until banking hours before using them. The only identification needed is the countersignature of the owner in the presence of the person accepting the Cheques.

Grace Cunard in a two act Victor feature entitled "Her Better Self" is the first picture at the Gem tonight. It is said to be a fine production. The second picture is a Nestor comedy "Mingling Spirits" presenting an all star cast. Also one other good reel will be on the program. Tomorrow a three act 101 Bison Feature will be shown. It is entitled "Mamma Vanna" and was made by the famous Ambrosia Co., in Italy and purchased by the Universal. It is an adaption of the work of Maurice Maeterlinck.

The Princess offers the feature picture "Then I'll Come Back to You," for the program tonight. Alice Brady is featured. It is said to tell a powerful story of the great outdoors, the machinations of an unscrupulous scoundrel to ruin a rival suitor. There are awe inspiring scenes and an adventurous romance that finds its own after a series of most disheartening experiences. Tomorrow matinee and night Theda Bara, the great emotional actress will be seen in the great drama, "Destructions." It is an educational photoplay; educational from the artisan's viewpoint as well as from that of the student of economics. There is a great dramatic story woven through the picture and deals with a woman whose love of luxury plunges thousands into poverty and suffering.

Precedents Galore

There is nothing so new or so menacing about a justice of the supreme court being a candidate for the presidency. Nor are the candidacies of this sort confined to the Republican party. In fact, the Democrats have gone to the supreme bench to find candidates, notwithstanding the fact that Senator Stone has discovered that such a procedure is a menace. The New York Sun has gone into the question deeply, and publishes the following historic facts:

"John Jay, the first chief justice of the supreme court, was a candidate for governor of New York in 1792 and did not resign his office on the supreme court bench. He was defeated, but a few years afterward, following his resignation from the court, he ran again and was elected. Jay also served as envoy extraordinary to Great Britain during the last of his chief justiceship.

"In the third presidential election, 1796, James Iredell of North Carolina, a justice of the supreme court, was a candidate and received three electoral votes.

"In the election of 1816 Chief Justice John Marshall of Virginia had four electoral votes for vice-president.

"In 1832, at the twelfth presidential election, Justice John McLean of Ohio was at first a strong candidate of the so-called anti-Masonic party. He had consented to become the candidate of the party if nominated. But in the convention, which Chief Justice Marshall attended, William Wirt of Maryland was nominated, receiving afterward only seven electoral votes.

"Justice McLean was Ohio's candidate in 1836, but dropped out of the contest. Again Justice McLean was mentioned in 1848 and received two votes on the first ballot of the Whig convention, which finally nominated Gen. Zachary Taylor. At the first national convention of the Republican party in 1856 Justice McLean was a strong candidate, being the only strong competitor of John C. Fremont. The first and only ballot gave Fremont 359 votes, McLean 196, Charles Sumner 2 and William H. Seward 1. At the Republican convention of 1860, which nominated Lincoln, McLean received votes on all three ballots. He had also received twenty-two votes on the first ballot of the so-called Constitutional Union convention, which nominated John Bell. This was Justice McLean's last attempt to become a sought a nomination, for nearly thirty years, during almost his entire incumbency of a seat on the supreme bench.

"Justice David Davis of Illinois received the nomination of the so-called Labor Reform party in 1872, sending a non-committal dispatch to the convention, thanking it for the honor without accepting the nomination. He afterward formally declined, as did Judge Joel Parker of New Jersey, the candidate for the vice-presidency. Charles O'Connor of New York was nominated, but the second place on the ticket was not filled. At the Liberal Republican convention, which finally nominated Horace Greeley, Davis received votes on every ballot, and his presidential aspirations were unceasing. He received one electoral vote after Greeley's death. When the electoral commission was selected in 1877 to decide the Hayes-Tilden contest Justice Davis would have been the logical choice for the fifth member from the supreme court, but he had a few days before been a senator from Illinois and it was thought improper that he should serve. If he had been selected Tilden instead of Hayes would probably have been elected.

"Chief Justice Chase was a candidate for president in 1868. Grant, who had been a Democrat, was nominated by the Republicans, and the Democrats thought it would be wise to oppose him with an old-time Democrat who had won such esteem from the party in his rulings in the impeachment case of President Johnson, and a plank of the platform emphasized this. Undoubtedly Chase would have been nominated but for the opposition of Tilden, who very adroitly brought about the nomination of Horatio Seymour. It is said that this act of Tilden's had a sequel in 1877, when the daughter of Chase influenced one or more senators to cast their votes against Tilden.

"There has hardly been a pre-nomination campaign since Washington's second election when some justice of the supreme court has not been thought of or been prominent in connection with the candidacy. There has been little or no criticism on that score, and the result has always been a matter of fitness and availability as compared with other candidates."

In 1849 Niblack was elected to the legislature. In 1854 Governor Wright appointed Niblack circuit judge and he was elected to the same office a year later.

Elected to congress in 1866, Niblack began a period during which he served alternately in Congress and practiced law at Vincennes. Beginning in 1876 he served twelve years on the Supreme bench. He died in 1893.

Plain Facts About Mexico.
(St. Louis Globe Democrat.)

The country is indebted to former Secretary of State Knox for a clear and concise statement of facts and dates to the few weeks, in the early part of 1913, when the Madero Government in Mexico was being overthrown and the provisional government of Huerta inaugurated. These statements were made in refutation of a recent assertion that Mr. Wilson, coming into office March 4 in that year, found the Mexican problem left on his hands by his predecessor, Mr. Taft. Mr. Knox, who then was secretary of state in the Taft cabinet, said, speaking at a Grant Day banquet in Pittsburgh, that "What Mr. Wilson inherited from Mr. Taft was an outstanding unanswered diplomatic request to the provisional government at Mexico City for definite assurances of the security of American rights, and the adjustment of American claims as a preliminary to consideration of the question of recognition. What Mr. Wilson did was to repudiate the policy of his predecessor in this as in all things, and create a situation making the adjustment of American rights impossible."

Therein is a challenge which goes unanswered. Mr. Knox was speaking from the records of a time all of which he saw and much which he was. Thus refreshed, the public mind will readily recall the so far from pressing the claim by the Taft administration as preliminary and essential to recognition. Mr. Wilson announced, very soon after his inauguration, that "under no circumstances which may arise" would the provisional government in Mexico be recognized. The ex-secretary has now shown, by the citation of dates in their chronological order, that the provisional government with which Mr. Taft had been negotiating for special guarantees was a constitutional government under Mexican law; that Huerta, even if an assassin, was in no sense a usurper, that he succeeded in the office not Madero but Laseurain, following Madero's resignation February 18, and Huerta's own appointment to succeed Laseurain as minister of foreign affairs, next in the line of presidential succession under Mexican law. On Laseurain's resignation, February 19, Huerta was chosen provisional president by the Mexican Congress, then in session. Withholding recognition under such circumstances was in contravention of all our previous continental policy.

She accuses him with being intimate with one May Baney. According to the complaint, they were married on February 14, 1914 and separated March 22, 1916, at which time he abandoned her. Special Demonstration

Miss Purtell from the Sprague Warner Co., is with us this week, demonstrating orders for late fall delivery for our well known Fernell Goods.

FERNELLE GOODS are without doubt the best ever sold in Rushville. Almost every lady who has used them will testify to that fact. During the demonstration we have special prices on all goods in case lots and in no case are the prices higher than last year, in several items they are lower.

With sugar, cans, all fruits, and in fact, everything used about canning higher. (even the gas) it is cheaper to buy your fruits and vegetables canned than to can them at home.

If you are interested call us up. We will have Miss Purtell call on you with samples and prices.

CONTRACT TO BE LET BY JULY 15

Plans and Specifications for National Serum Company's Plant Here are Complete

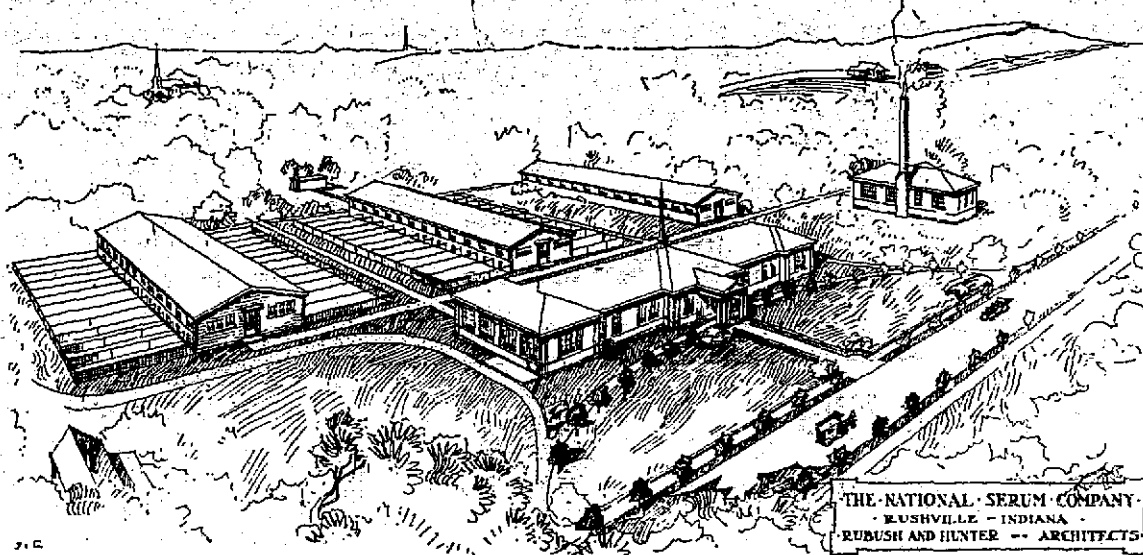

BIDS ARE BEING RECEIVED

Institution Will be Second to None in United States, it is Stated Today

Plans and specifications have been completed by Rubush and Hunter, Indianapolis architects, for the plant of the National Serum company, which is to be erected, a short distance south of Rushville, and bids are now being received at the offices of the architects, 430 American Central Life building, Indianapolis. It was announced today that the contract will be let some time before July 15.

The new company had hoped to have actual construction started before this, but they had an unexpected delay of six weeks in having their plans prepared. Mr. Hunter, of Rubush and Hunter, personally attended to the plans for the plant, and before he began work he visited every serum manufacturing company in the Plant of The National Serum Company, to be erected on a 70 acre tract on the Caldwell farm, 1 mile south of Rushville, Ind., on the New Salem pike.

THE NATIONAL SERUM COMPANY
RUSHVILLE - INDIANA
RUBUSH AND HUNTER - ARCHITECTS

Bids are now being received for the erection of this plant at the offices of the architects, Rubush and Hunter, 430 American Central Life Building, Indianapolis. Contract for this plant will be let on or before July 15th. Contractors interested are urged to get plans and specifications immediately.

state. Rubush and Hunter are numbered among the best architects in the state, having prepared plans for many of Indianapolis' largest and most modern buildings. They were architects for the coliseum at the state fair grounds.

The plant of the National Serum company will be a federal plant. This fact is especially emphasized by the officers of the company because it means much to the users of hog cholera serum. To be a federal plant, it means that it will be operated under a government license and that there will be a government man here all the time to oversee the manufacturing of all the serum, which is a guarantee that it has the stamp of approval of the United States authorities.

It was decided to locate the National Serum company here because Rush county is not only the largest hog raising county in the state but because there is only one other county in the Union which raises as many hogs as this county.

The tract of land on which the buildings will be erected consists of seventy acres. There will be a main building, a power house and three large hog houses with pens adjoining on each side. All of the buildings will be of concrete and will contain all of the improvements that will be found in any serum plant. The company says the plant will be second to none in the United States. What land is not required for the building will be used for the hogs to run on. From one thousand to three hogs will be kept on hand all the time.

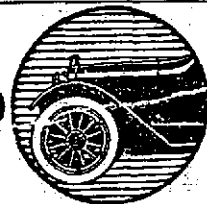

One of the best qualified serum men in the United States has been employed as superintendent. He will come here backed by ten years of experience.

Up to the time the plant is completed, the company has arranged with another company to take care of farmers and other hog raisers who are interested in the proposition.

Local contractors are invited to bid on the proposed buildings and some have already started work to prepare estimates. The hope was expressed today by a representative of the company that a local contractor might be successful.

Doubtless few persons have realized the immense value of the National Serum company to Rush county farmers and other hog raisers, but those who have become interested are already boosters and the success of the institution seems assured at its very inception.

URGE USE OF JITNEY BUS

Union Men Now Trying to Get Back at Car Company

(By United Press.)

Peru, Ind., June 27.—Life is just one thing after another for the city street car system here. First the little jitney bus steals so much business that the Fort Wayne & Northern Traction Co., decides to cut the force on each city car to one man—the motorman. Now all the union men are uniting in condemning this action as "inimical to the welfare of union men," because it throws union men out of employment. They are urging everyone to walk or use a jitney bus.

Our Advice is-Buy Shoes Now

The great war is causing a tremendous rise in leather and shoes, and is forcing prices SKY HIGH —

The millions of soldiers in Europe are using up so many shoes that the shortage of leather is becoming a serious problem, and the burden must be borne by the citizen consumer. In America this condition is hitting us hard.

We strongly advise you not to delay your purchase, not only for yourself, but for the whole family. We do not know what the future prices will be, but whatever they are, neither the retailer nor the consumer can help himself.

Situated back among the trees, the large veranda, where the guests spent the greater part of the day is ideal for entertaining. Decorations corresponding to the purpose of the order were used, the porch pillars being twined with bunting in patriotic colors, and large American flags being draped over all the doors in welcome to the guests. Nasturtiums, sweet peas, catwaba and a number of other flowers decorated the rooms and the porch. A beautiful color scheme of corresponding reds was used on the dining table which was lit with red candles in crystal holders. A huge centerpiece of cherry branches embellished the table, under the chandelier, which was similarly decorated. Ferns were placed about and bouquets of Crimson Ramblers graced each end of the table. The bountiful dinner was placed here and the guests passed about, being served in buffet style. Cherry pie a la mode was the last course of the elegant repast.

At the close of the meal, a beautiful set, including a sugar spoon and butter knife, bearing the letters W. R. C. was presented to Mrs. Pearsey, with a short but appropriate talk by Mrs. Noley Newkirk. Several short readings were also given by Miss Frances Frazee.

Offer Merchandise in Road Races at County Fair.

The merchants of Rushville will put on the two county road races—the pace and the trot—at the county fair this year. The purse of fifty dollars in each race offered by the Rush County Fair association will still stand, but will be augmented by merchandise by local merchants. Noah Tryon, who is in charge of this feature, reported yesterday that the purse in each event then amounted to $100 and that it would probably go to $150. The farmers of the county are urged by the fair promoters to get their road horses in shape and make these two events among the most interesting ones on the race program this year.

SEES LICENSES FOR THE AD. MAN

Speaker at Convention of Advertising Clubs Says They'll be Treated as Physicians.

GIVES PRINTER'S INK CREDIT

N. B. Buckner of Asheville, N. C., Tells What His City Accomplished by Its Use.

Philadelphia, June 27.—Lewellyn E. Pratt, chairman of the National Educational Committee of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World, speaking at the twelfth annual convention of that body here this morning, predicted that the time was not far off when the advertising men of the country would be licensed by state examining boards, as physicians now are.

He said that when this prediction was first made, some time ago, the man who predicted it also said the time would come when great universities of the country, recognizing advertising as a force for public good, would provide courses for the training of advertising men, and this has now come to pass. Many of the leading universities now offer such courses. He predicted the licensing of advertising men as a natural step that would be taken before long. Features of today's sessions were

One of the particularly interesting the discussion of community advertising plans at a department conference on city advertising, and it was proved that a city, which the right kind of advertising plans, can expect results as tangible and as certain as those which the merchant or manufacturer has learned to anticipate.

Robert L. Burch, Nashville, Tenn., told how that city obtained seventy-four new industrial concerns and 333 conventions as the result of a well planned advertising and publicity campaign. The capital of the new industries approximate $2,000,000 and the estimated amount of money spent by the thousands of delegates attending the 333 conventions is over $2,500,000.

N. B. Buckner, Asheville, N. C., told how his town was transformed through similar methods. More than twenty-five vacant stores greeted the visitor as he strolled through the heart of the town a few years back, and today there is only one vacant store in the whole city, said Mr. Buckner. In addition to that it has brought new people, two new hotels and vast business improvements.

"The Nashville bureau began its work with three things in mind," said Mr. Burch. "These were to increase the population; to secure new industries and to get conventions. We have accomplished all three.

"Before a single advertisement was placed, a complete, accurate and attractive set of municipal literature was compiled, twenty-three pieces in all, dealing with every phase of municipal life. The bureau expended $20,000 for this literature, and more than 1,000,000 pieces have been distributed.

"After this literature had been compiled, the bureau placed advertisements in the country's leading magazines and periodicals of general circulation. Special write-ups and illustrated stories were published in many of them. We used trade journals, technical periodicals, important farm and dairy papers, newspapers, billboards, buttons, fobs, pins and moving pictures."

Mr. Buckner gave "printer's ink" full credit for the transformation in the North Carolina city, and especially recommended newspapers as the best advertising medium for a city.

"Five years ago traffic officers were an undreamed of factor in the daily life of Asheville," says Mr. Buckner. "Yet two years ago, the growth of the city had been so rapid that they were a necessity on the principal business corners of the city.

"Six years ago, when the present administration of the Board of Trade was inaugurated, there were more than twenty-five vacant stores in the business district of Asheville.

Today there is but one vacant store room in the city, and in the meantime, many new ones have been erected, building operations having been greatly stimulated both in the business and in the residence districts.

"Our advertisements give definite information about Asheville's climatic condition, scenery, water accommodations, etc. We always request persons interested to send for descriptive literature which is forwarded immediately upon receipt of such requests, together with a personal letter.

"Our follow-up system is such that each inquirer receives from ten to twenty letters, papers, booklets or folders about Asheville. The names and addresses of all persons asking for information are furnished to the two daily papers, which send copies of current daily and Sunday issues. A copy of this list is sent to the passenger department of the Southern Railway, which sends letters and literature, and frequently has a representative call on the party for a personal interview.

"Charles French Toms, a former prominent citizen of Hendersonville, twenty miles of south Asheville, was brought to Asheville as a citizen, means of a three-cent booklet published and distributed by the Board of Trade. Mr. Toms has invested $300,000 in Asheville within the past three years."

While the bulk of the money for Asheville's advertising has been raised through subscriptions by the business men of the city, some of it has come through municipal taxation, about $5,000 a year now coming from this source, he said.

FOOD RIOTS DUE TO INJUSTICE

German Government Regulates Supply For the Poor But Has Not Bothered That of Rich.

STAND IN LINE FOR HOURS

Buck the Restaurants With Food Wagons and Cooking in Many Households is Past.

BY WILLIAM G. SHEPHERD.
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Rotterdam, May 28.—(By Mail)—The German government is regulating the food supply for the poor but so far it has not taken in hand the control of food for the rich.

The many travelers from Germany who gave their ideas of the German food situation to me here all complained that the wonderful, scientific food conservation scheme of the Germans broke down when it came to dealing with the food of the rich. This is why there are food riots in Germany. Injustice exists and civilians of Germany town realize it.

"Poor people must stand in line for hours before a meat shop, providing they have five or six marks for a pound of meat," said one German I met in Rotterdam.

"Maybe the meat supply in the shop will hold out until their turn comes in the line and maybe it won't. But rich people can hire a servant whose sole duty is to stand in the meat line every day, from 1 o'clock in the morning until the day's supply of meat for the rich man's household is secured.

"And even if the rich man's servant fails to buy meat, he and his family can always go to a hotel or restaurant and get meat on every day in the week except Tuesday and Friday.

"The authorities may frown on a household going to a restaurant every day, but there is no law against want to be criticized for doing this he has only to go to a different restaurant every day and his unpatriotic practice will not be noticed."

The idea seems to be growing among the middle and lower classes in Germany that the only fair way to deal with the food conservation plan is to put all civilians on a ration basis, each person being granted only a certain quantity of food every day and each individual being sure of receiving the full quantity.

German, who had socialist leanings, "In a war like ours," said this, "there ought to be no rich or poor. Everybody ought to be on the same basis and many Germans think it is monstrous that the poor should suffer more than the rich.

"We all feel that if the war goes on every person rich and poor ought to be supplied with a daily ration ticket. With this ticket a poor man will be certain of receiving all the food he needs for his family and the rich man will not be able to secure any more than the poor whether he

Federal Inquiry or Railroad Strike?

Faced by demands from the conductors, engineers, firemen and brakemen who would impose on the country an additional burden in transportation costs of $100,000,000 a year, the railroads propose that this wage problem be settled by reference to an impartial Federal tribunal.

With these employees, whose efficient service is acknowledged, the railroads have no differences that could not be considered fairly and decided justly by such a public body.

Railroads Urge Public Inquiry and Arbitration

The formal proposal of the railroads to the employees for the settlement of the controversy is as follows:

"Our conferences have demonstrated that we cannot harmonize our differences of opinion, and that eventually the matters in controversy must be passed upon by other and disinterested agencies. Therefore, we propose that your proposals and the proposition of the railroads be disposed of by one or the other of the following methods:

1. Preferably by submission to the Interstate Commerce Commission, the only tribunal which, by reason of its accumulated information bearing on railway conditions and its control of the revenue of the railways, is in a position to consider and protect the rights and equities of all the interests affected, and to provide additional revenue necessary to meet the added cost of operation in case your proposals are found by the Commission to be just and reasonable; or, in the event the Interstate Commerce Commission cannot, under existing laws, act in the premises, that we jointly request Congress to take such action as may be necessary to enable the Commission to consider and promptly dispose of the questions involved; or
2. By arbitration in accordance with the provisions of the Federal law" (The Newlands Act).

Leaders Refuse Offer and Take Strike Vote

Leaders of the train service brotherhoods, at the joint conference held in New York, June 1-15, refused the offer of the railroads to submit the issue to arbitration or Federal review, and the employees are now voting on the question whether authority shall be given these leaders to declare a nation-wide strike.

The Interstate Commerce Commission is proposed by the railroads as the public body to which this issue ought to be referred for these reasons:

No other body with such an intimate knowledge of railroad conditions has such an unquestioned position in the public confidence.

The rates the railroads may charge the public for transportation are now largely fixed by this Government board.

Out of every dollar received by the railroads from the public nearly one-half is paid directly to the employees as wages; and the money to pay increased wages can come from no other source than the rates paid by the public.

The Interstate Commerce Commission, with its control over rates, is in a position to make a complete investigation and render such decision as would protect the interests of the railroad employees, the owners of the railroads, and the public.

A Question For the Public to Decide

The railroads feel that they have no right to grant a wage preferment of $100,000,000 a year to these employees, now highly paid and constituting only one-fifth of all the employees, without a clear mandate from a public tribunal that shall determine the merits of the case after a review of all the facts.

The single issue before the country is whether this controversy is to be settled by an impartial Government inquiry or by industrial warfare.

eats at a hotel or at home."

It is to placate the poor and the middle classes of German towns that the government "soup" wagons pass through the streets.

The restaurants and rich hotels of German cities where a man with money enough had only to go in and express his desires in order to have them fulfilled, became sources of irritation to German civilians.

The government therefore tried to bring restaurant conditions to the people by establishing the food wagons.

In many households cooking is almost a thing of the past. Housekeepers wait for the passing of the food wagon and run out with receptacles to purchase the current meal, which usually consists of war bread and a vegetable soup.

The food wagons, however, while they may satisfy the hunger of the populace do not, I gathered in Rotterdam, satisfy the popular demand for more justice in the distribution of food.

"Put the whole country on rations" is the solution Mr. Average Citizen in Germany offers his government.

"The riots we have been having are not so much for food as for justice and fair play in the distribution of food," explained a German from Berlin.

Fashions, or Woman's Health.

The first thing many persons think of finding on the Woman's Page of a newspaper is the Fashions. That is not what women most need to find there. Health is the first thing, and many women lack it. Notes telling how to preserve the health are of the greatest value and interest for women; and, if they are suffering from woman's ailments, they read with the most intense interest how other women got well from their ailments, and so they too get what made them well—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"Not So Bad Being Laid Up"

Cheerful? Why not? Scheduled for a couple of weeks more, but I should worry!

Why, that little old wreck and my smashed leg have brought me a change from the "road"—all the comforts of home—and $200 every four weeks from my AETNA ACCIDENT POLICY, together with payment of the surgeon's fee. Not to mention the $25 I get every week while I'm lame-ducking in the open air.

Pretty soft, eh? Especially when a fellow works only on commission. Seriously, all of you boys ought to

AETNA-IZE

You're not worrying the banks with deposits any more than I did. And when the accident breaks your good old Aetna income keeps away the wolf and debt, and makes you independent. No spazing for me!

The cost? Honestly, too small to talk about.

The Maxwell Automobile is a Day-in-and-Day-out Car

Our absolute faith in the Maxwell car is due to two reasons:

First, we have known that the Maxwell Company uses nothing in the entire car but the very best that money can buy.

We have known that the steel is scientifically heat treated, that the car is built under the supervision of able engineers, that every car is rigidly tested many times before it leaves the factory.

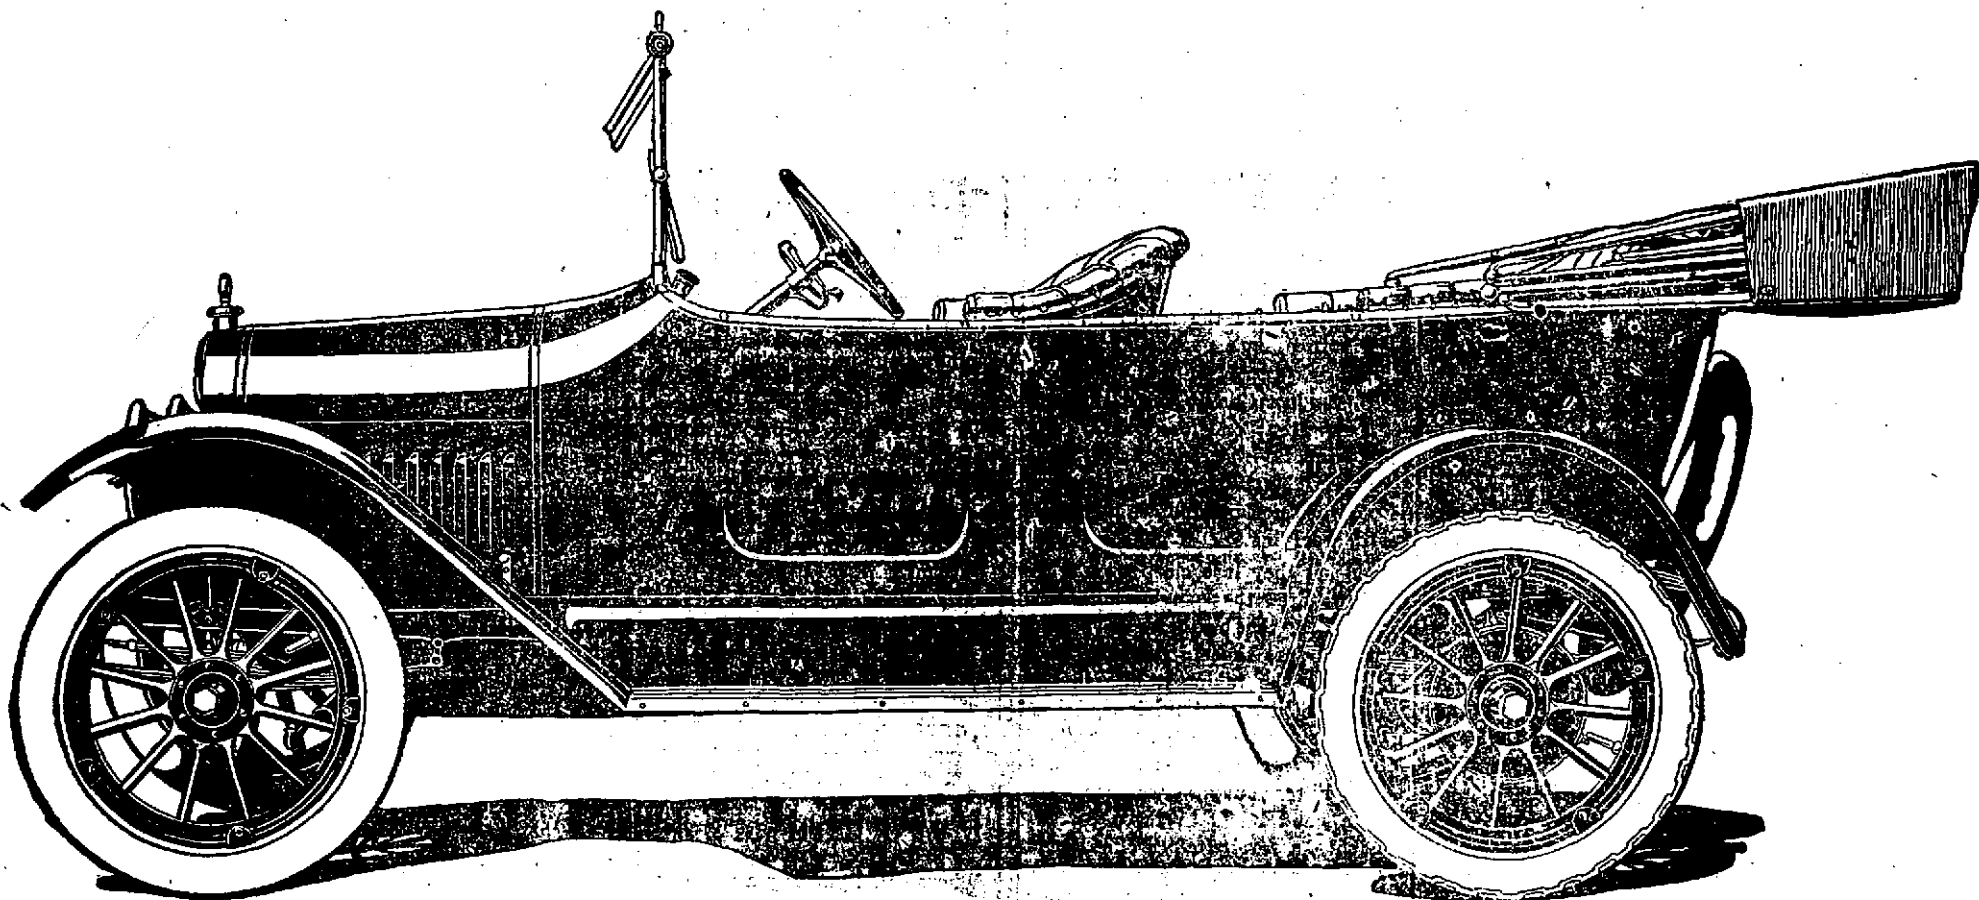

Second, we have known that the big and well established company behind the car is built for the future, that they value a satisfied owner above anything.

Now that the Maxwell has set the World's Motor Non-Stop Mileage Record, by travelling continuously for 44 days and nights—averaging 500 miles per day—you will understand the benefits you personally may derive from the Maxwell policy.

Did you ever hear of any car going 22,000 miles without once stopping the engine, without any repairs or readjustments, with only one gallon of gasoline to every 22 miles?

There is no reason why you shouldn't have a reliable, serviceable and economical Maxwell car.

A word of warning—it is not wise to wait too long. The demand for Maxwells is growing so that in a very short time the factory output, tremendous as it is now, will not be able to meet the demand. If you wait too long, you might be forced to content yourself with some other make of car which, first and last, will cost you much more than the Maxwell.

Opportunity for a Maxwell Dealer is open in this vicinity. Our proposition has unusually attractive and interesting points. Communicate with Maxwell Motor Company, Inc., Detroit, Mich.
